

James When Magic Happens

James lived a happy life until his parents died and was forced to live with his horrible aunts. One day a little man offered him little green crystals. He told James to drink them and James did as told. James didn't know what would happen, but he hoped it was something good. The next morning he went to his morning jobs, he didn't see Aunt Sponge and Aunt Spiker. He thought the house had become smaller, but right as he thought that, he realized that he had grown. His head was sticking out of the roof and he was breaking the the roof where ever he walked. A while later he heard a noise that sounded like aunt Sponge. James looked down and there was a small Aunt Sponge and Aunt Spiker. They were as big as James's shoe. Then he thought it must of been the little green crystals. Then both of his aunts were shouting at James. " How did you get like that James?" Aunt Sponge asked.

They told James to get out of the house. James broke the roof and the door on the way out. James started laying on the ground. He put his hands on his chest not knowing what to do. The sun was in his eye, so he blocked it with his hand and lightning struck down. James did a quick move to dodge it, did I do that? James thought. Then he stuck his hand out and flames went on the grass. James tried to put water on the flames, but he had none. He put his hands up and water went all over the flames. James was amazed.If he could only turn himself smaller.

He tried to use everything he could, but the bad thing was he was making natural disasters. Everybody around James was full of terror. He was starting forest fires, and whenever he tried to turn out the fire, he would start a tsunami. Then he fell on his knees and started praying. He was praying to God that his powers would go away. He prayed so much that he could barely fall asleep. The next morning, he woke up in some kind of dungeon. He looked up and there was a person with a black cape. He started talking to James. “ Why don’t you like my gift?” he asked.

James responded, “ I just can’t have them, I can’t control myself.”

“Well I will take away your powers and I will give you something in return, but you have to give me something first. You have to get the helmet of war at the top of the tallest mountain in the world, Mount Base.” he said. I want it because I will have all the powers in the world and become a god.

“How will I get up there?” James asked.

“I will give you my teleportation staff,” he replied.

“It doesn’t work on me but it will work on you,” he said.

“Ok is that all I have to do?” James asked.

“Yes he responded, but there will be guards and you have to get away from them,” he said.

“Ok that sounds easy enough,” James replied.

“So you have to go through that portal over there,” he said.

“ I will try my best,” James said.

“ Well off you go,” he responded.

James went through the portal and he appeared right in front of a huge mountain. There were guards coming straight for him. He looked at his teleportation staff the man gave him, it looked confusing. There were different spots on the world he could go. The guards were coming faster. They were just about 20 feet away from him coming in all directions. He started to look at where he could go on the wand. He found something that said, top of Mount Base. He pressed it and he appeared on the top of the hill. He looked around and he saw the helmet of war, but it was far away from him. There were even more guards coming for him, so he started to run for the helmet. The guards were faster than James, but he made it to the helmet first. He grabbed it and looked back at the wand, he pressed dungeon and right as he closed his eyes he was back.

He gave the man the helmet then he appeared outside of Aunt Sponge and Aunt Spiker's house. James wasn't big anymore. He stuck his hands in front of him and nothing happened. James was full of happiness, he fell on the ground thanking God so much. Then he saw people walking to him. Aunt Sponge and Aunt Spiker walked out with two other people, it was James's parents! James was so glad to see them. They said that James could live with them at their house for the rest of his life. The man that he met in the dungeon must of gave James his parents back.

James lived a happy life with his mother and father and lived next to a lot of fun and nice kids. When he was in the car with his parents driving to his parents house, he saw a big peach rolling down the hill. After that James remembered that he dropped some of the little green things when he was drinking them and something must of went wrong. James didn't want to care about that right now, he saw everybody running. "I'm glad I don't have to do any more chores," James said to his parents.

"Oh yes you do," James's father responded

"Can I do them tomorrow?" James asked.

“Fine” his dad said, James and his parents enjoyed the rest of the car trip.